

Texas allows transfer of plates

Jan-11-2008

The State of Texas has passed a law that states: Effective January 1, 2008, passenger cars and light trucks are eligible to transfer license plates between vehicles with the same owner. The plates must be appropriate for the class of vehicle to which the plates are being transferred. Please note that this law expires August 13, 2011.

When you pick up your replacement passenger car or light truck from the dealer, you may transfer the tags. This will eliminate the need for a temporary tag, and will get you on the road with your new vehicle faster.

If you have any questions, please contact your PHH account team.