

PHH announces agreement with J.J. Keller & Associates, Inc.

Apr-14-2008

Good news for those of you who need help with DOT compliance: PHH has announced that it has signed an agreement with J. J. Keller & Associates, Inc., by which J.J. Keller will provide regulatory compliance services for PHH clients.

Any vehicles in your fleet that are over 10,000 pounds gross or combined weight are categorized as commercial vehicles and subject to regulatory compliance laws. Now, J. J. Keller will enhance PHH's offering by providing its comprehensive U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT) regulatory compliance and vehicle legalization services suite to PHH clients. This includes the full spectrum of driver qualification services, vehicle regulatory compliance services, risk mitigation, and on-site client consulting and assessment. In addition, PHH's solution includes services such as permitting, tax filings and hours of service compliance.

Mike Lewis, PHH's Senior Vice President for Truck Strategy, says, "For those fleets that include vehicles over 10,000 pounds gross or combined weight, it's crucial to understand all DOT requirements and stay in compliance. We see our relationship with J. J. Keller as a strategic benefit to our clients, as the company is the premier provider of this class of services in the industry."

PHH's agreement with J.J. Keller further augments the broad capabilities we deliver to service and truck fleets, including the enhanced fuel and maintenance services we brought to market last year. PHH also has the largest number of NPTC Certified Transportation Professionals of any company, as well as other truck experts to support our products and consult on client needs.
